The article stipulates that in the current political and legal reality triad of power, law and power are inextricably linked. It is proved that without a strong Ukrainian authority cannot make anti-corruption and economic reform. Without the strong Ukrainian authorities cannot secure the rights, freedoms and legitimate interests of citizens. Without the strong Ukrainian authorities cannot protect Ukraine and EU member states, from military Russian aggression. Hypotheses that if the current Ukrainian government will delay the reforms will lead to power in a constitutional way of counter-revolutionary force in the form of "Opposition bloc". It is concluded that the Russian military aggression in Europe can only stop updating the Armed Forces of Ukraine, military courage which is based on the traditions of the Ukrainian Insurgent Army. A necessary condition for stopping military aggression is providing Western countries Armed Forces of Ukraine high-tech weapons, or to provide financial resources for the production of domestic enterprises. Otherwise Russian tanks sooner or later will come back to Berlin.

In order to protect Europe from Russian aggression, the Armed Forces of Ukraine must obtain modern weapons. The Armed Forces of Ukraine should be strong modern effective weapon and skills of application. If the US and countries participating EU do not provide weapons Ukraine, it should give Ukraine loans for its production at Ukrainian defense enterprises. Ukraine's military budget should be increased several times by targeted Western investment. Ukraine can independently make modern warplanes and tanks and small arms and rocket systems and satellites spies and military ships.

Without a strong legislature and the executive and judiciary in Ukraine is not possible to implement anti-corruption and economic reforms to ensure the rights, freedoms and legitimate interests of citizens, protections Ukraine and EU member states, from military and ideological aggression of «Russian world». Military unification of Ukraine must to be strong not only ideologically and organizationally, but also engineering and IT, modern war is war technology.
